Explorative Relationship Questionnaire

The following questions are aimed at exploring your partner’s thoughts and feelings regarding certain dimensions of their lives as well as aspects concerning your relationship. It is important to note beforehand that these questions may elicit some strong emotional responses. These possible emotional responses should be handled with care and respect. If the emotions are experienced as too overwhelming stop and take a break, continue working through the questions at a later stage. It is important that you work through all the questions. It is recommended that you choose the time and place to work through these questions carefully. Try and listen to your partner’s responses without interrupting him/her. Be careful to give your own opinion and try and understand your partner’s experience. Each partner must have a copy of the question schedule and make notes on their partner’s responses. These notes can be used to reflect on later and to identify and address problem areas in your relationship.
